Budget Tops $16.5 Million

The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District Board of Education has adopted a tentative 1971-72 budget of $16,527,900, which primarily covers cost of education and related programs for kindergarten through grade 12.

Not included in the budget is federal grant money yet to be allocated to meet special needs of educationally deprived children.

The budget is planned to cover cost of operation of 22 elementary schools, five junior high schools and three senior high schools, including the recently renamed Cypress High School.

Budget categories include instruction, health services, administration, plant operation, plant maintenance, certain fixed charges and transportation. Also included are food services, community services (such as recreational programs and public use of school facilities), capital outlay, outstanding debts (state school building payments), capital outlay, outstanding debts (state school building payments), transfers, reserves, stores account and petty cash.

The 1971-72 budget is up $361,661 from last year, which in part reflects a cost of living increase for personnel, possible because of careful planning and curtailment of some services and programs.

Board member George Glidden voted against the tentative budget on the premise that more salary increase was allotted certificated staff than lower-paid classified employees and that pay increases required termination of certain jobs, particularly for 15 teachers aides. Superintendent Allan J. Petersdorf said priorities had to be established, that the district is in the business of education, not employment. Board member Raymond S. Isakson stated that "a lot of people spent a lot of time resolving the situation." The adopted tentative budget with built-in cuts seems the best answer under the circumstances, he implied.

Parade Is Saturday

Over 200 units are scheduled to appear in Seaside's Annual Independence Day Parade, Saturday, July 3, according to parade chairman, Jerry McGrath.

The parade will begin at approximately noon in the vicinity of Harcourt and Fremont.

The parade will move down Fremont past reviewing stands in front of Safeway to LaSalle and Fremont where it will end.

The LaSalle and Fremont area will be the site of a three day carnival to be held in conjunction with the parade.

Give A Summer Job --Large Or Small

Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke, chairman of the Summer Jobs for Youth campaign, is urging the cooperation of all California employers, "large or small," in the drive to find employment for thousands of young people.

Reinecke said in announcing the campaign: "The economic picture in the nation, and particularly in California makes our work in the Summer Jobs for Youth program much more difficult."

"Thousands of young people will be exposed to the labor market for the first time during the summer of 1971 and our efforts in this campaign are designed to aid in creating a swell of job opportunities to acquaint these youthful citizens with work habits, develop their vocational interests, contribute to their personal growth, and to keep them gainfully occupied and related to our society."

Reinecke also heads the aerospace employment task force. He pointed out some of these young people must earn money in order to be able to return to school in the fall. Others help their families with summer income. Still others simply need jobs to sustain themselves, he said.

"Our goal is to obtain productive employment for every person willing and able to work, without regard to race, color, creed or national origin. Because there is so much unemployment in all areas of our state, and at all levels of our society, we feel it would be appropriate to work with any and every agency in seeking to provide job opportunities...in government as well as in the private sector...for all of our unemployed."

"We do need, desperately, the full and complete cooperation of all segments of business, industry and agriculture if we are to provide the needed opportunities."

"Potential employers can help by contacting their nearest Human Resources Development Agency with their employee requirements. Our people will take it from there."

ON BILI- Flying Burrito Brothers, one of most original and exciting new rock groups, will appear at Monterey Music Fair, Volume II this Sunday, July 4, at Monterey Peninsula College football stadium. Jointly sponsored by MPC and Project Aquarius, advance tickets may be purchased at MPC's community service office, Aquarian House, Cecil's Ice Cream in Seaside and at gate.

New Program Of Counseling

A new service for students in senior high school, including students from junior high who will enter tenth grade when school opens September 7, is offered by the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District community counseling program coordinated by Leonard Cohn, supervisor of child welfare and attendance.

Cohn said goals of the new plan are to have community counselors work between home and school in order to meet the needs of each student, to improve communications among students, parents, school and community, to interpret the responsibilities of student and school personnel concerning the educational program.

"There is more to education than academic classes," Cohn believes. He said most students already are programmed for their courses for next year, but that they will benefit from school according to their understanding of the advantages of educational opportunities available.

"Community counselors will strive to achieve a positive relationship involving the home, community, and school," Cohn remarked.

MPUSD community counselors and inter-group relations assistants will telephone homes to set up appointments for visits this summer and will attempt to schedule as many as possible.

Any senior high school student or parents of any senior high school student who would like to home conference or prefer a school visit, may telephone the high school counseling office, Monterey High School 647-7481; Seaside High School 649-7426.

Remember Landing

This Sunday, July 4, Monterey will once again relive Commodore John Drake Sloat's landing and the first official raising of the national colors over the territory.

The ceremony will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Presidio of Monterey Sloat Monument. Captain Sydney Brooks USN (Ret.) will be master of ceremonies.

Fred Farr, Trustee of the California Historical Society, will give an historical presentation entitled "From Serra to Sloat" and Mrs. Elmarie Dyke, Past Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, will tell the story of the Sloat Monument.

Following the traditional wreath laying at the monument, a salute battery from Fort Ord will fire an 11 gun salute in honor of Commodore Sloat. This will be answered by an 11 gun salute from the USS Gridley, which is anchored in Monterey Bay.

Local citizens and merchants are being asked to dig into attics, basements and garages for household items for contributions toward making Monterey County's Halfway House a successful undertaking.

Fifteen parolees will soon occupy the house which is the former Baptist Church at 1382 Sonoma Street, Seaside. The site belongs to Mr. Homer Martine of Pacific Grove who is the man behind the project. Mr. Martine has contributed his money, his time and the place.

Contributions so far from B. J. Furniture, M.B.S. The Trader, and interested Pebble Beach and Carmel citizens include several chairs, beds, mattresses, chests of drawers, a rug, two floor lamps, one desk, a large coffee maker and flatware for eight. Much more is needed to accommodate the men, especially needed are linens, blankets, a washer-dryer and refrigerator.

Any items which would enhance the former church's new, yet somehow old, role as an inspiration to man, will be appreciated.

Concert, Army Incompatible Says Counseling Service

"While last Sunday's disturbances (at Fort Ord) began with racist incidents between black GIs and the military officials at the (Canned Heat) concert, it quickly developed into another in a growing series of GI riots against military oppression," says the Pacific Counseling Service.

In a prepared statement concerning the incidents, the counseling service said that rock concerts do not mix with military posts, even one such as Fort Ord which is a showcase of the Army's experimental VOLAR (volunteer army) program.

The statement continued to say that the reason the two don't mix is that although there was a rock concert, a large number of GIs, who are undergoing training at the fort, were marched in uniform by their officers and NCOs to the stadium. People with walkie-talkies, cameras,

Halfway House Needs Items

Seaside has recently been selected as the site for a Halfway House. This will be a temporary home which enables a parolee to gradually reorient himself with the world he originally left behind for prison bars.

Local citizens and merchants are being asked to dig into attics, basements and garages for household items for contributions toward making Monterey County's Halfway House a successful undertaking.

Fifteen parolees will soon occupy the house which is the former Baptist Church at 1382 Sonoma Street, Seaside. The site belongs to Mr. Homer Martine of Pacific Grove who is the man behind the project. Mr. Martine has contributed his money, his time and the place.

Expert Gives Advice To Seekers Of Summer Jobs

Youthful northern California summer job-seekers should concentrate on small firms, according to a spokesman for the State Department of Human Resources Development (HRD).

Mrs. Marged Sugarman, the spokesman, said she based her advice both on a formal survey of San Francisco bay area employers and on the unofficial consensus of other HRD experts throughout northern California.

"We find that the big employers who have always been big in summer youth hiring have severely cut back their hiring plans this year -- and that puts them on a par with the smaller firms in terms of the actual number of young people they plan to accept," she said.

But small employers -- especially in the trade and service fields -- do not appear to have reduced their hiring plans as drastically, she said. The significance of her findings, Mrs. Sugarman said, is that since most large firms will not be hiring any more people than most small firms, the job-hunter is better off avoiding the big companies.

Instead, he should make as many calls on smaller firms as possible, rather than putting in just a few applications with the big firms, she advised.

The bay area survey of employers was conducted by HRD local offices in March, she said.

SES Has Youth Jobs

Many summertime jobs are available to young people who can qualify as disadvantaged because of family income and need to work.

The Student Employment Service of the Monterey Peninsula has openings for 42 clerk-typists, ages 16 to 21. This is full-time, 40-hour-a-week work on government installations, under the federal Youth Opportunity Program. Hourly wage is $1.65.

There are also a number of job opportunities for youth, ages 14 to 18, who have not been graduated from high school, to work with a public of private non-profit agency under the Neighborhood Youth Corps. A variety of kinds of work is offered, 32 hours a week at $1.40 an hour.

Applicants must apply in person at the Student Employment Service office, in with the Human Resources Development Department, 480 Webster Street, Monterey. The SES counter is open weekdays, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Despite the tight labor market situation, she said, youngsters are welcome to seek advice on how to look for work by visiting their local HRD Office--whether an employment service office, an HRD Center, a Youth Opportunity Center or (in rural areas) a Farm Labor Services office.

She recommended these steps for a young job-seeker on visiting a prospective employer:

*Make as many contacts as you can in your neighborhood area

*Look as eager to work as you feel -- be alive and responsive

*Keep your eyes open -- if you see things going on that you've done before, "sell" your experience

*Talk about your strong points such as hobbies and interest area; there's a chance you will "trigger" your prospective employer

*Volunteer for tough or unusual jobs -- a willing worker is always attractive to an employer

*Accept a part-time offer, for it could lead to full-time summer work

Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke is chairman this year of the State Summer Jobs for Youth program.

Tax Man to Help Seniors With Claims

A representative of the Franchise Tax Board will be in Monterey on Wednesday, July 14, to assist California senior citizens in filing claims for benefits under the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law.

The representative will be at the Council Chambers, City Hall, Madison and Pacific Avenue, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The law provides for a reimbursement of a portion of the property taxes paid by California who are over 65 years of age, own and reside in their own homes, who have paid the property taxes for the current year and who have income of $3,350 or less.

Claims must be filed prior to October 15, 1971.

Almost $9 million was paid out in reimbursements to 62,000 senior citizens last year. Claimants should be aware that reimbursements cannot be made until after July 1, 1971.

Information may be obtained over the telephone by calling the nearest office of the Franchise Tax Board at 294-0540 in San Jose.

Publisher's Report

Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

Being a politically-oriented person, my first impulse was to write in reference to Seaside's upcoming recall. However, because of deadline, this column was written before the Tuesday election, which means that I could only speculate on the results. But whatever the result, it behooves all of us to remain aware of our responsibilities to our community and to our fellow man.

With the Fourth of July holiday this weekend I thought about awareness and freedom and the responsibility each of us has to our Fellow Man and started to write about those things. While doing so, I looked up my column of last July 4, for some reference material. I reread the column and couldn't think of anything better to add, so I decided to re-run last year's column in its entirety.

"Independence Day, Fourth of July, picnics, hot dogs, parades, family outings, all are synonymous with the great national holiday celebrating our independence from a tyrant king only 194 years ago. Monterey is celebrating its 200th birthday this year together with the rest of California yet we have been a sovereign nation less than 200 years."

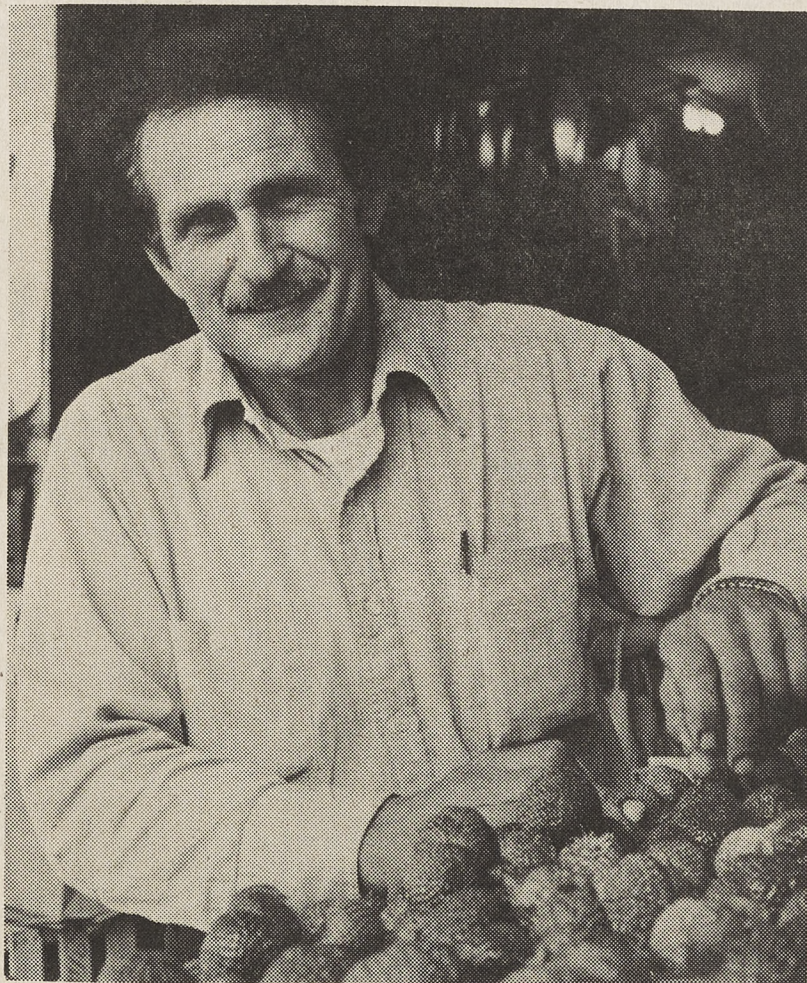

"This is really not a very long time in the history of man, yet we look at all of the progress around us and marvel that most of it actually has taken place in the last 70 or 80 years. Of course, I am talking of progress in the sense of industrial output

Pamphlets Warn of Sore Throats

A sore throat may have serious consequences for your child's heart than for his throat, says the Cental Mission Trails Heart Association.

A streptococcal sore throat may lead to rheumatic fever, an inflammation that may involve the heart and cause rheumatic heart disease. This is a scarring of the heart valves, which subsequently may require surgery to correct.

To help prevent, it, the American Heart Association has produced a twonew pamphlets which discuss the warning signs of the kind of sore throat that may lead to rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.

"Protect Your Child's Heart" (and the Spanish version, "Proteja El Corazon de Sus Hijos") gives the symptoms associated with streptococcal sore throat; a sore throat that comes on suddenly, that hurts most when swallowing and that hurts when you press the glands under the angle of the jaw. A fever or nausea may accompany the sore throat.

"You, Your Child and Rheumatic Fever" also gives the signs of strep sore throat. In addition, it answers questions about rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.

For copies of the new pamphlets on streptococcal infections, rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease, write to or telephone the Central Mission Trails Heart Association, 541-A South Main Street, Salinas, Telephone 424-6007.

and technological advancement. When I try to think of progress in the sense of human thought and for humanity, then I have to stop and reconsider. Have we progressed up the ladder as human beings? Is man more aware of his responsibility to his fellow man? Has civilization worked towards the higher spiritual elevation of man? Do all of our achievements in the realm of technology bring us closer to the truth? Are we still revolutionaries in the sense that we welcome change or have we sunk to the level of reactionaries who dread any change?

"We have to go back in our memories to the history books and try to realize the sufferings and deprivation that our founding fathers must have endured through the early days of our revolt against England and King George. These Pilgrims left a country where they were being persecuted because of their religious beliefs. They came to these strange shores to seek Freedom. These hardy souls not only sought freedom—they fought for it. First, they had to fight for survival. Another of our National Holidays celebrates the victory of those brave people for survival. Thanksgiving Day.

"After this they had to fight the organized might of a great world power and her mercenaries. Again they were victorious. Why?... Because they still were revolutionaries and were looking for a change for the better. After these victories, an inspired group of men sat down and wrote what is today one of the most democratic documents giving man his freedom that was ever written, the Declaration of Independence. The very name of that document means freedom.

"Even then, these men weren't satisfied that the Declaration did enough to free man so they wrote the BILL OF RIGHTS, adding the first 14 amendments to the constitution. They were so anxious to give us our complete freedom that our ancestors weren't satisfied that the Constitution they had written did this. They added the amendments to ASSURE us that freedom.

"The proof of their divine guidance is in the history-making decisions that our Supreme Court has made in the last few decades interpreting that Constitution.

"Yes, these interpretations have been revolutionary decisions. That is why the Tories of our day have so vehemently opposed them. They have opposed them to the point where they wanted to impeach our Chief Justice, Earl Warren, who helped write some of the

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

President Nixon may not be the greatest threat to U.S. security. There is strong evidence, of course, that his strong-willed attempts to divert several billion dollars in public money into a useless anti-ballistic-missile defense system - thus making this money unavailable to social programs that might save us from eventual conversion to communism - are a much greater threat to America's future than all the Jerry Rubins and other radical screwballs combined.

On the other hand, when we look at the very roots of the whole picture, we find that the biggest threat to the continent are over-population of the earth's human species and the over-technology of said species.

As originally designed by somebody or some power, depending on individual concepts of how and why we are here, the earth and the life it supports are quite remarkable. We have gravity to keep us here so we can pay taxes. We have a thin atmosphere of air with just enough thickness to it to keep the sun's rays from burning us while still warming us and making plant and animal life possible. And somebody arranged to have the earth turn on its axis often enough to get us a good night's rest every 24 hours, which is about right if you have time to do it. Then, too, we have water which comes down fairly gently from the sky and scattered around enough so that almost anyone wishing to drink it or bathe in it may do so, if it happens to fit their lifestyle. And apparently things were pretty well set up for several million years until one outlaw life species couldn't stand the status quo and goofed up the whole thing by stepping out of the natural balance picture. So, between anti-biotics and religious taboos and more food production and better transportation and so on, we now have three and a half billion berserk-acting humans wantonly destroying anything that stands in their way, including other more deserving species, as they fight for survival on a planet that will in thirty years have an additional three or four billion equally berserk humans on it.

In my always humble opinion, I believe the over-population of the earth and the effects it will have on our America will prove to be an even greater threat to our security than our President. It is my hope that before it is too late we will stop trying to divert public attention from the real issues. Prosecuting a man or a newspaper for the crime of letting us know the truth about what is taking place, as in the case of the Pentagon coverup scandal, is hardly a step forward, yet it does serve a purpose - it diverts us from noticing and recognizing real dangers, lest we restrict some financially or politically profitable endeavors.

A hundred years from now, history will surely be an interesting subject, if anybody is left alive to read it. In the meantime, pay your taxes.

decisions which further guaranteed the freedom of man. The leader in the fight to impeach this great man was the John Birch Society, a group of reactionaries who oppose any change, especially that change which brings about social justice and social freedom for the ordinary man. They are the opponents of revolution. They want to stand pat. Why not? Most of them are rich. And, do you want to know something. Two members of the Birch Society were elected to Congress and yet what would be our reaction if there were two Communists elected. Communists are supposed to be revolutionaries, yet we fight them as if they were enemies.

"Our Constitution and the amendments that it contains are more democratic and more revolutionary than any of the documents ever written or in use in any country in the world and that includes the Soviet Union and China. But we revolt at the word revolution.

"I had to take the opportunity given me by the celebration of Independence Day to talk about independence and freedom. I wanted to become aware and to make you aware of your responsibility for our fellow man. His freedom and spiritual and, yes, his material well-being is the responsibility of our government under our Constitution and the well-being of every living thing is the responsibility of every man."

Collective Control - City of Seaside

We are entering a new age, the age of collective control. It looks as if the fitting maxim now is "As Berkeley goes, so goes Seaside." Cities like Seaside have lessons to learn from Berkeley's recent political rod. It just might be that Berkeley's style will become a political guide. What happened in Berkeley these past few months is evidence that electoral politics has made its greatest stride forward.

The Berkeley victory proves that electoral politics can work. It also proves that the American Institution of electoral democracy is like Christianity--the trouble with it is that nobody practices it. Most of all, it proves that organizational work on the grass roots level will always pay off.

The city of Seaside is a quiet city. At time it is as quiet as a quiet rock. But it is interesting to watch the residents of Seaside in a "joint filled with the smell of liquor, smoke of all kinds and the sound of music. Most of the residents think of it as "life." If this is life, then it is a life that allows the city government to take over in a way that can only end with Big Brother telling you what to do. This kind of quiet life in Seaside might produce slothful, lazy and wasteful men.

But, on the other hand, the quiet city of Seaside has to be re-analyzed in the light of what will happen during the forth-coming City Council election. The election of the new Berkeley City Council is a more important event than any of the street fighting trouble that Berkeley has had. In Seaside, the keeping or electing of the most experienced and best councilmen - councilmen who understand the concepts and are willing with vigor to call for the policy of collective control--will be more important than the drinking and dancing that goes on in Seaside today.

The black population of Seaside is large enough to create immediate and dramatic political and civic changes. The Berkeley election has been discussed here because that election simply shows that the residents of Seaside can fight for the control of their City Hall. All the residents have to do is organize and work together. Let us use "collective control" as the theme of the present campaign. A tremendous door-to-door program should be organized for "get-out-and-vote." Most of all, the black community should organize to turn out the vote in unprecedented numbers. It is not news that blacks and young people want a change in Seaside. Everyone knows that. But what will be news will be the anti-establishment (meaning only the anti-City Hall's status quo) feeling in the city. This coming election will show how deep that feeling goes. The ground swell in Seaside is a lot bigger than anybody thought.

In electing candidates, it is most advisable not to elect the enthusiasts of the left or the emotional men. Rather, it is always wise to elect the most sensible and practical men, men who differ from the establishment in their views on how a city should be run and who reflects much of the feelings of the city itself.

The Berkeley victory was a tremendous shot in the arm to politics in California. Seaside should join Berkeley to show that electoral politics is like Christianity. It is a gas when it works. Electoral politics can work if Seaside residents want it to work in Seaside.

This idea of collective control will bring a new thing to Seaside politics and hopefully to the political life of the nation. It will show blacks and young people that they can be effective while working within the system. Collective control will provide the incentive needed to make the system work for us at all levels.

NPS Prof Honored

Eugene C. Haderlie, a biological oceanographer at the Naval Postgraduate School, received the first annual $1,000 Excellence in Teaching Award at commencement ceremonies held June 18.

Dr. Haderlie was selected outstanding teacher at NPS by his colleagues, students and alumni.

Haderlie has been teaching at the school since 1965, after 15 years as head of Department of Biological Sciences at Monterey Peninsula College.

He received the A.B. degree in zoology from the University of California at Berkeley in 1943. After graduation he joined the Navy and served in Europe as a deep sea diver, mine disposal officer and underwater demolition officer.

In 1946 he returned to Berkeley, where he was awarded the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in zoology.

Later he was a Science Faculty Fellow of the National Science Foundation at the University of Bristol, England and the Stazione Zoologica, Naples, for one year.

Great news from Dr. Seuss for parents of 2 to 6 year olds!

Take these colorful
3 BRIGHT and EARLY BOOKS all for only $1.65
with your child's trial enrollment in
The Beginning Readers' Program

For the first time ever, there's a new kind of book for very young children. Created by Dr. Seuss and his friends, they're called BRIGHT AND EARLY BOOKS--remarkable little stories that give your youngster a jet-propelled start into the world of reading.

Dr. Seuss and his friends have done a wonderful thing! They've created BRIGHT AND EARLY BOOKS that charm even very little kids into reading.

Extra easy, breezy and gay, BRIGHT AND EARLY BOOKS make learning to read really child's play for 2-to-6-year-olds. They talk to a lot about things that are delightfully familiar to him: his eyes and the fun of seeing... his feet and the marvels they can perform... the ideas that a young child finds so fascinating.

But humor is the real magic of these enchanting new books. The illustrations are so funny a youngster can't resist them--and from there it's a natural step to reading the clever (but very simple) rhyming words. All it takes is a bit of "read aloud" help from you, and your youngster is on his way. Slowly at first, then with more assurance, he'll be reading all by himself.

From this happy start--on to bigger things!

The three BRIGHT AND EARLY BOOKS shown here are the starter books in the BEGINNING READERS' PROGRAM. They cost $5.85 at the publisher's catalog price. But you may have all three for only $1.65. They'll get your "beginning" beginner off to a happy start in reading. And then it's an easy glide right into reading regular BEGINNER BOOKS... for they begin where BRIGHT AND EARLY BOOKS leave off. As a member of the program, your child will receive a BEGINNER BOOK each month, and you will be billed only $1.65 plus delivery instead of the publisher's catalog price of $1.95 (you save on every book). After accepting four monthly selections, you may cancel membership at any time.

Enjoy this 10-day treat free!
It's a delight to watch Dr. Seuss and his friends charm your child into reading. We'd like you to see how they do it. So you're invited to accept the three books shown here for a 10-day free trial. You must be delighted, or you may return the three books and owe nothing. Just fill out and mail the attached reply card (or coupon) today.

WEAVING WEB OF STEEL -- At Pacific Gas and Electric Company's nuclear power plant project near Diablo Canyon in San Luis Obispo County, five steelworkers carefully tie together six layers of 2-1/2"-diameter reinforcing bars. Two hundred fifteen-foot high super-safe structure will house nuclear reactor for 1,060,000-kilowatt generating unit scheduled to produce electricity in 1974. Web of reinforcing steel bars, largest made, surrounds leak-tight steel liner. Ends are welded together. Over it all will go layer of concrete 3-1/2-feet thick. Unfinished area in center will be completed last, after reactor and other equipment have been installed.

Elected

Peninsula Parent Nursery School has installed its new officers for the coming school year.

The officers are: Mrs. Richard Catron, president; Mrs. Erik Short, vice president; Mrs. Edward Hennessey, secretary and Mrs. Pat Kennedy, treasurer.

Mrs. Catron has selected the following members to serve as committee chairmen: Mrs. Robert Stephenson, membership; Mrs. Dave Ehrig, art; Mrs. James Clark, outdoor equipment; Mrs. Stanley Sokol, indoor equipment; Mrs. Larry Dufur and Mrs. Peter Vitarisi, scheduling; Mrs. Robert Bendick, supplies and Mrs. Bruce Mendenhall, public relations.

Peninsula Parent Nursery School is inter-racial, non-sectarian and parent-participating for children age 2-1/2 to 5.

Project to Begin Here

Bruce W. McClain, Road Commissioner, has announced that Monterey County has received approval for a Highway Safety Project. Support for the project has been given by the Office of Traffic Safety, State of California and the National Highway Safety Bureau.

McClain said that there is presently no way of accurately identifying accident analysis purposes. In the past the County has been unable to finance or allocate the necessary time to conduct this project.

This study will review and determine milepost locations for the major rural County road and develop a data processing system which will integrate this milepost information into the Monterey County Traffic Sign and Striping Inventory Program.

The results of this study will be an improved method of precisely determining accident locations.

Through the County's continuing accident surveillance program, recurring accident situations will be recognized and investigated even faster than by current methods.

Lake Sequoia Camp Has Much to Offer

The Monterey Peninsula YMCA is offering nine-to-twelve-year old boys excitement at Lake Sequoia resident camp in two sessions this summer.

The Lake Sequoia site offers sailing, rowing, fishing, crafts, horseback riding, archery, trampolines, swimming with instruction, daily chapel and campfire programs and many other activities.

Lake Sequoia is located at an altitude of nearly 8,000 feet, at the entrance to Kings' Canyon and Sequoia National Parks. It is only three miles by trail from the General Grant Grove of giant sequoias. The lake is owned by the YMCAs in the Central Valley. There are actually five Y-Camps around the lake, one of which is leased by the Monterey Peninsula YMCA.

Session 1, for boys nine-to eleven-years old, will be July 3-10. It will be directed by Doug Sprague, YMCA General Director.

Session 2, for ten-to twelve year old boys, departs on July 24, and Ron Markillie, YMCA Program Director, will direct it.

There is still some space in both sessions. Parents should phone 373-4166 for further information.

Church Services

Liberty, justice and the end of all oppression are promised to those who are governed by God in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy reads: "Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the Soul-inspired motto, 'Slavery is abolished.' The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love."

First Church of Christ, Scientist, holds services at 10:30 a.m. in Monterey.

All are welcome to attend.

Miss Vaughan To Appear At Festival

Vocalist Sarah Vaughan will be present this year at the Fourteenth Annual Monterey Jazz Festival. She will appear during the Sunday evening Festival concert, September 19.

Seaside High Needs Pianos Opening For Secretary

The theme song at Seaside High School lately has been, "Have you any old pianos to give?"

Principal James Solberg, explained that when 90 Seaside High students signed up for instrumental music next year, he and Jack Bayes, instrumental music instructor, were surprised that two-thirds of them indicated a preference for piano lessons.

The school owns two pianos, but to accommodate the crowd at least eight more pianos are needed. With 10 pianos, 20 students can receive instruction each period, Solberg said. He also observed that there is sufficient staff for the music project, but no money in the budget to buy more pianos.

A public appeal seems the only answer.

"Any kind of piano will be welcome as a gift," Solberg commented, "or money donated for purchase will be accepted gladly."

The school district will haul donated pianos, will repair and tune any not in top condition, on request will put on a plaque naming the donor and will provide receipts for equivalent dollar value for income tax purposes. Solberg estimates that a small upright piano in fair condition would cost as little as $125, but some are worth more.

Letters telling of the need are being sent to service clubs in Seaside, and throughout the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District and to piano companies of the area. The goal is to get enough pianos in time to have them readied for class when school opens September 7, but also to know about them in time to program students for piano classes.

Prospective donors may telephone Solberg's office, 649-7341, or write him at P.O. Box 1031, Monterey.

A vacancy for a Secretary I has been announced at Monterey Peninsula College. Applications will be taken immediately by Mrs. Judy Patengale in the MPC business office, Building T-3.

Safety Bumpers Implied Consent Explained

Would Add
$105 To
Car Cost

New bumpers to absorb impacts of five miles an hour to fronts and rears of cars will add $105 to the consumer's price, the Ford Motor Company has told the United States Senate Commerce Committee.

In a statement to the committee, which is considering a law to require shock-absorbing bumpers as part of a damagability rating system for cars, Ford said the bumper systems, along with the required changes in the car frame and body, will cost $77 more to manufacture than present bumpers.

Retail markups and taxes, Ford said, will raise the price to the consumer to $108, not counting the manufacturer's profit margin.

The auto companies are opposed to legislation on bumper standards, feeling that the field is adequately covered by present Department of Transportation regulations.

Proposed department standards require five miles per hour front-impact bumpers and 2.5 mile per hour back bumpers on all 1973 cars.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has indicated it may make the requirements even tougher. Ford denied that building a bumper to absorb a five mile per hour impact is easy simply because a man can bump against a wall at that speed without injury.

"Don't be misled by the walking man simile," a Ford spokesman told the senators. "The mass of the object makes a difference."

The company spokesman said that the force of the impact is proportional to the speed and the size of the object. He said that an average man walking into a barrier at five miles per hour would generate 125 foot-pounds of energy the amount needed to lift a one-pound object one foot but a car at that speed would generate 3,500 foot-pounds of energy.

CSAA Supports Drunk Law

The California State Automobile Association recently announced its support of a bill designed to close a loophole in a California drunk driving law.

The bill, SB 1312, introduced by State Senator Donald L. Grunsky (R-Ventura Coastal Counties), is designed to keep second offense drunk drivers off the highway.

Senator Grunsky's bill provides that when a person is arrested on a second offense drunk driving charge, any earlier conviction can only be challenged through the court which tried the earlier case or by appeal or an action filed in the Superior Court.

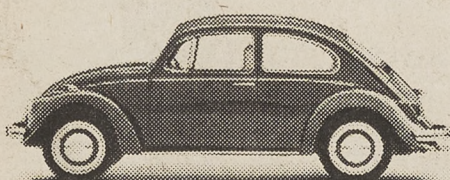

Presently the courts often set aside previous convictions on the grounds of constitutionality which reduces the severity of the penalty and often results in allowing the repeater to continue as a first offender. With prior convictions nullified the driver not only receives a lesser penalty for the actual second or subsequent offense, but he often returns to the highway before he has shown that he can drive safely.

Grunsky's bill would move to eliminate this situation. During a recent 12-month study period, 74,000 drivers were convicted of driving while intoxicated, yet 83 percent of these drivers were allowed to return to the highways.

"Implied Consent Is Not A Lady's Smile" is the title of a brochure soon to be distributed through Department of Motor Vehicles offices statewide. The brochure was prepared by the California Traffic Safety Foundation to inform the public about the Implied Consent and Presumptive Limits laws -- California's drinking-driving legislation.

J. Arthur Rude, Foundation spokesman said, "Late last year we saw results of a Field Research Corporation

CHP To Study Driver Stress

The California Highway Patrol will use some of the techniques of space medicine to attempt to determine the differences, if any, between individuals who have traffic accidents in streets conditions and those who do not.

A transistorized helmet, similar to one developed to measure physiological reactions of astronauts, will be used to monitor brain waves, heart action and eye movements of California Highway Patrol officers during high speed driving tests. The car they will drive will also be instrumented so that driving patterns such as braking, accelerating and making turning movements, can be determined.

CHP Commissioner H. W. Sullivan, in announcing the research project, said that the test group will consist of volunteers whose history of driving under stress conditions is a matter of record.

Testing will be done at the CHP Academy's emergency vehicle operations track in conducted by personnel of the Space Biology laboratory at the University of California at Los Angeles' Brain Research Institute. They will also build the transistorized helmet and instrument the test car.

Sullivan said that readings of the officers' heart, brain and eye actions will be made under varying degrees of stress and will be transmitted by the transistorized helmet to a tape recorder in the trunk of the car.

The UCLA group will collect the data, prepare the computer programs, analyze the test results and submit a report on driver characteristics to the research section of the Highway Patrol.

Objective of the study is to determine if there is any correlation between stress driving histories of study subjects and their physiological and motor reactions when driving under stress during the tests.

The testing is expected to be conducted over a period of 10 weekends, starting in August.

poll which questioned people on their knowledge of the drinking-driver laws in California. Almost 75 percent of the people were misinformed or ignorant of these laws."

Under the Implied Consent law, an requested or the driver will lose his license for six months. The loss of the license is because the driver refused the test, not because he had been drinking.

The Presumptive Limits law states that if a person has a blood-alcohol level over 0.10 percent, he is legally presumed under the influence of alcohol.

Since the passage of these two laws, police and prosecutors have had a much easier time getting convictions for drunk-driving offenses.

Rude said, "Driving is a privilege which may be suspended by either the Department of Motor Vehicles or the courts. In the case of the Implied Consent law, the DMV automatically suspends the driver's license because the driver is thought to have abused his driving privilege by refusing the test for alcohol."

The California Traffic Safety Foundation prepared the brochure as part of a contract with the State of California to inform the public about the drinking-driver laws.

Explaining the importance of the brochure, Rude said, "We have included a small chart which shows how much alcohol a person can consume in order to reach the 0.10 percent Presumptive Limit. The legal limit for drunkenness is higher than most people estimate it to be. There is a difference between the social drinker and the problem drinker; the public should be aware of the facts."

The Foundation is giving the DMV about a million brochures for their local officers to distribute.

Datsun Sales Continue Up

Retail sales of Datsuns for the calendar year 1971 topped the 100,000 figure in May. Sales by the end of the month reached 108,074.

With May sales of 22,569 vehicles, Datsun dealers have increased their output by 102 percent over a similar period a year ago.

Robert O. Link, Vice President of Sales for the Nissan Motor Corporation in U. S. A. WHO DISTRIBUTE Datsuns in United States, pointed out that while May was the first month this year when the company had failed to better the previous month in sales it was purely a supply problem.

"The demand is certainly there, but there just weren't enough ships available to transport the cars to meet that demand," Link added. "However the 22,569 was the second best month we've had and future supply looks better."

Showing the greatest gains were sales of Datsun's passenger car line with an increase of 143 percent over last year. May reports indicated retail sales of 17,049 cars as compared with 6,999 a year ago. Leveling out due to supply shortages, Datsun's pickup

People Buying Unsafe Tires

California citizens are still unknowingly purchasing passenger car tires which are "unsafe for highway use" even though a Federal law designed to protect the buyer of such tires went into effect December 1, 1970.

California Highway Patrol Commissioner Harold W. Sullivan reports that CHP officers continue to find some tires branded "unsafe for highway use", "not for highway use" or "for farm use" being used on passenger vehicles on highways.

New tires which meet U. S. Department of Transportation standards for passenger cars are branded "DOT" on both sidewalls. Sullivan advises buyers to look for the required marking in order to avoid unintentional purchase of tires which are manufactured for farm or racing use or which have been released for sale as substandard or defective units and intended for "off highway" use only.

The Lutheran Cantata Choir of Oakland is composed of experienced Lutheran singers from all over the Bay Area. It is associated with California Concordia College as part of that school's community outreach program. The choir has over the past years presented first Bay Area performances of a number of 20th - Century masterworks of Lutheran music.

he's a dog," Van Dyke explained. "He'd sit on your lap if you'd let him."

Since he's not a gentleman rancher, how does Dick occupy his time?

"Aside from the occasional movie or television show -- I sit a lot," he concluded happily.

Demos Pass Resolutions

At its last regular meeting the Central Committee of the Democratic Party in Monterey passed two resolutions. One of the resolutions is concerned with the United States' position in Indo-China while the other deals with constitutional rights.

The text of the two resolutions follows:

Resolution regarding Indo-China

WHEREAS a public opinion poll by George Gallup taken in September 1970 indicated that 53% of the population of the United States and the same poll taken in January 1971 indicated that 73% of the population of the United States are in favor of a complete withdrawal of all troops from Vietnam, and

WHEREAS whatever reasons, economic, military, moral or other, we may once have had for our presence in Indo-China have long since been eclipsed by the costs to our own society in these same areas, therefore be it,

RESOLVED That the Monterey County Democratic Central Committee urges that the United States government initiate an immediate cease fire; that U.S. forces engage in combat only in direct and immediate response to hostile action; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the U.S. government initiate an immediate cessation of all naval bombardment and aerial bombing and other overflights; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the U.S. government initiate an accelerated program of withdrawal of all U.S. ground, air, naval, intelligence, reconnaissance and support forces, with September 15, 1971 as the announced date of completion of this withdrawal; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the U.S. government undertake to publicize the foregoing through established diplomatic channels and the public media, both in the U.S. and abroad.

Resolution on Constitutional rights

Whereas the Nixon administration is proposing legislation to the Congress of the United States which provides for preventive detention of persons for up to 60 days, and

Whereas, the requested legislation would cover crimes as varied as kidnapping and selling narcotics, robbery, and bombing, as well as some difficult to define as conspiring to racketeer, and

Whereas, persons liable to such detention covers a range from those convicted of felonies within the previous ten years to persons who are drug addicts, and

Whereas, a further group of persons subject to being detained in this manner is defined by being persons whom the government certifies as being a threat to the safety of the community, based on the government's evaluation of the past behavior of the person, and

Whereas, each of the above conditions is in direct violation of the Constitutional rights of citizens of the United States of America, due to substance as well as vagueness,

Therefore, the Central Committee of the Democratic Party in the County of Monterey deplores and condemns this attempt on the part of the Nixon Administration to deny citizens of their Constitutional rights, and

Further, strongly urges all

Deadlines For Fair Approaching

A harbinger of August was dropped into the Monterey County mails recently.

The 1971 Monterey County Fair, to be held August 15, will transform the Monterey fairgrounds into a giant bouquet of glowing color and the 1971 premium book gives the first exciting hint of things to come.

Between the rose tinted covers there are 136 pages of competitive events designed to challenge the beef producers, the bread bakers, the dairymen, the produce growers and the culinary experts of Monterey County and in many cases the entire Monterey Bay area.

Extra copies of the premium book are available at chambers of commerce offices in Monterey County, from the Monterey and Salinas offices of the county agricultural commissioner, or upon request from the Monterey County Fair offices.

members of the Congress of the United States to work actively for the defeat of such legislation when it is offered and Further, urges all citizens to inform their representatives of their fervent opposition to such legislation.

"Dimensions in color" is the theme of the 1971 fair. The subtheme in the Agriculture Department is "Nature's bouquet".

A new department in this year's premium book is that for rabbits in the 4-H division. It offers five sections for the breed competition and a class in rabbit showmanship.

There are literally dozens of opportunities for 4-H and Future Farmers of America members to win special awards in 1971 -- more than have ever been listed in a Monterey Fair premium book before.

But the junior exhibitors, both 4-H and FFA members, don't have much time left for dreaming of future awards -- they need to be doing, for the first deadline in the 1971 premium book is less than a week away. Four-H and FFA livestock entries (including rabbits) must be in the mail by 5 p.m. on July 6.

From that date until the first weekend in August, there's a deadline every week. Senior feature booths and 4-H agriculture, home economics, agricultural mechanics, wildlife, etomology and photography entries all are due on July 17. (all of the last-named categories are for 4-H members only.)

On July 19 entries are due for senior livestock and junior and senior home economics. Floriculture entries must be in by July 31 and agriculture entries have a deadline of August 2.

PT&T Issues Warning

Pacific Telephone has announced it is stepping up its efforts to warn that it is unlawful to use unauthorized credit card or unauthorized telephone numbers to avoid charges.

From now on, the firm said, all new telephone directories will carry a warning in the introductory pages that such mis-use of numbers is cause for prosecution.

"Anyone violating Section 502.7, California Penal Code, by attempting to avoid lawful charges for telephone service may be fined up to $5000 and imprisoned up to five years," the warning says.

In addition, the company is taking steps to post the warning in public telephone booths.

Returns to His Home

A graduate of Monterey Peninsula College who was long associated with Carmel's Studio Theater, Peter Debono, now holding a master's degree in drama from the University of California at Los Angeles and with considerable acting, directing and technical experience behind him has returned to MPC to teach.

He joins a growing list of former MPC students who "came back" as instructors -- including drama department chairman Morgan Stock, whose place he will take during the latter's upcoming sabbatical leave.

Debono will be remembered locally for his Studio Theater roles in "Once Upon a Mattress," "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Bye, Bye Birdie" and for his direction of "The Hasty Heart" "The Moon is Blue" and "Anything Goes" in the middle 1960's.

More recently (1969), he was co-director of "George M!"

Graduating from UCLA -- he transferred to MPC in 1965.

In the succeeding years, he had leading roles in many university production and directed and worked on technical direction and set design for others.

He also worked with the Beverly Hills Community Theater and directed children's acting workshops for the Beverly Hills Department of Recreation.

During that period, too, television viewers saw Debono often in commercials and in roles in "Medical Center" and "Love American Style."

At MPC, Debono will plunge into work immediately. He is scheduled, not only to teach a summer course in drama appreciation, but to direct a seven-week theater workshop in conjunction with a class in play production taught by Nick Zanides. A full-scale summer dramatic production in the college theater is the goal.
